CHEERS

Sydney's Easter racing carnival saw a very nice gesture made by Bill and Mollie Aitkenhead.

All Tattersall's members visiting Flemington for the Melbourne Cup view with some awe, and many with personal satisfaction, the hospitality given in the nearby car parking areas.

There the cars laden with champagne and chicken, and about everything you could wish, served in delectable form, is available in generous style and Sydney visitors are especially welcome.

On Randwick's Ladies Day, in a grateful show of reciprocity, the Aitkenheads set up tent, electric lights and heavily stocked tables of food and refreshments, to repay the hospitality they had enjoyed on Flemington and New Zealand courses.

Maybe, and we sincerely hope, the Aitkenheads are pioneers in what could be a great round of joy and merriment from our A.J.C. leaders in the Randwick Racing Carnival features of the future.

AS OTHERS SEE US

Gordon Coleman, former secretary of the Australian Journalists' Association, was farewelled by directors at the Journalists' Club.

One of the Club's earliest directors, Sid Nicholls, recalled the battle in 1939 to get the club going.

Said Sid: "We saw Tom Watson, then general manager at Tooth's Brewery, to see if we could set up an account".

Tom has been a member of Tattersall's since 1928.

He asked us what security we could offer.

We told him "Only our thirsts".

"We got it; no risk".

HAPPY RETURNS

Four years ago Keith Harris, STC committeeman and breeder, gave his wife a yearling as a birthday present and it was named Nob Hill.

Unfortunately, the colt fractured a bone in his near side foreleg in a track gallop and it was feared he may have to be destroyed thus ending a career before it was started.

However, Nob Hill was saved mainly through the patience of trainer Jimmy Martin.

Now a long overdue birthday present was realised when Nob Hill won a race at Canterbury, and we trust that there are many more occasions in the offing for many happy returns of Mrs. Harris's birthday.

MAGAZINE DELIVERY DELAYED

The April issue of Tattersall's Club Magazine was mailed to members on 5th April last.

It is regretted that through circumstances beyond our control postal deliveries were much delayed.

EVEN KEEL

In recounting days of the Depression of the 30's at the Senior Members for 1974 function, Chairman Geoff Eastment in his facile, warm welcoming speech, explained that in those harsh days, Tattersall's had a hard tussle to keep ("what is the word" he sought from Secretary Jim Thomson) but quickly upspoke Mort Brewster "equilibrium".

"Yes" agreed Arthur McCamley "and enthusiasm".

Rejoined Chairman Geoff:—

"And a quid or two in those days was hard to come by".

WINING, DINING, DANCING

John G. Stephenson, Australian representative of A.S.A. International London Air Freight Forwarders, welcomed sales manager Peter Leichti of London. Peter is to become Far Eastern A.S.A. Representative based in Singapore.

The Noel Simpsons entertained N.Z. jockey David Peake and his wife, and Alton Lodge Stud owner Eric Haydon and his wife. David has been the leading jockey in N.Z. for the past two years and has ridden in international races representing N.Z.

The W.P. Lenehans from their stud at Coolac, with daughter Sally and son Bill, celebrated an annual reunion with their N.Z. friends over for the Easter racing carnival at Randwick and the Newmarket yearling sales.

The party included Mr. and Mrs. J.S. Otway from "Trelawney Stud", Cambridge, N.Z., Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Williams, "The Parae Stud", and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Lowry, "Okawa Stud". Serenely watching and enjoying the convivialities was Mrs. Lenehan snr., from Wagga Wagga.

Celebrating with interstate and country visitors after the Sydney Cup meeting were Dr. Leo A. Feain and family, regular Thursday night patrons who enjoy the cuisine, music and dancing.

Harry Hall celebrated the birthday of daughter Marilyn and a rather belated "many happy's" to son Christopher.

David Covington's engagement party to Miss T. Teasedale was a glowing success.

Greg and Pat Calder saw that son Jamie's reaching his teens, he was 13, was made a great event.

FAMILIAR FAMILY

Leigh Clark's father and his two brothers, Tony and Rodney are well known members.

Leigh won a high reputation at St. Ignatius as the 1st XV half back and played with the 1st XI.

Now married to Margaret, and in the insurance broking business, his only sporting activities are confined to our third floor.

SENIOR MEMBERS

The annual presentation of Senior Members' badges took place on 8th April last — a Senior Member being one with 40 years membership of Tattersall's.

Chairman Geoff Eastment told of the great pride associated with such an august occasion.

"Wherever you have a 40 years' association" said Geoff, "whether it be in industry, profession, marriage, or club life — you name it — it is a long and worth while companionship.

"We have only seven honorary Life Members, and I extend an especial welcome to those six now present — Gordon Booth, Alf Collins, Barney Fay, Arthur Miller, Claude Moore, Bill Sellen — and to Don Wilson who was unable to attend.

"During the year 14 members attained Senior Membership, bringing the total to 80.

"Apologies have been received for various reasons from six members who were to receive their accolade today. They are, Sir Norman Nock, Arthur Hurd, Keith McWilliam, George Johnson and Phillip Flitcroft.

In conferring on the new Senior Members their badge as a token of their achievement, Chairman Geoff invited them, in acknowledgement of his congratulations, to say a few words:—

And here are "the few words":—

Jack Chown

"I am voicing the sentiments of all here in emphasising what a great Club is Tattersall's. We can all claim that the most precious of all friendships have been the results of membership of this great Club".

George Tosi

"I would like to extend my thanks to all the committees down those 40 years.

"I've done nothing only pay my subscriptions and my bills.

"But, through all those years, dedicated men on hard working committees have done everything possible — and that is why you and I are here today, and what a great Club is Tattersall's"!

Tom Greaves

"I appreciate the great distinction of being a Senior Member. I have a wonderful 40 years of memories — may Tattersall's exist for ever — like my good friend Bill Sellen".

Cedric Hart

"I am delighted that I have made it — many times I felt the 40 years would be too much for me. I have great memories and great friendships.

"I'm going to omit a lot of names of my pals but Roy Hendy, Tom Lonsdale, Ern Williams, Bill Sellen, and a lot more at the medicine ball and Third Floor activities are quickly remembered — and I am not used to making speeches."

Jack Shaffran

"Tattersall's is a great Club by any standard. I owe the Club a lot for what it has given to me".

Bill Adams

"There is no doubt that everything improves with age — as does Tattersall's. I don't know the right words for octogenarians or emeritus members but I am grateful".

Raymond Tobias

"Proof of the fact of my happiness and affection for Tattersall's is that I joined as a lad of 24, am now 64, and both my sons, Murray and Robert, sponsored by me, are also members. I enjoy all the amenities in company with my sons.

"I have brought innumerable visitors into this grand Club, have taken them to the beautiful dining room on the fourth floor, then down to the Athletic Department on the third floor, and perhaps unduly dwelt at the delightful bars and accessories of the second and first floors. The walk downstairs may have been walking in reverse — but it has always served its purpose".

Mort Brewster

It may have been coincidence but everyone put their hands together doubly loud when the concluding recipient Mort Brewster was called up by President Geoff.

It was genial Mort who told reminiscences in TCM of his youthful days with the Fort St. High football team, then known, according to Mort, as "Fight Street".

President Geoff recalled Mort's serious accident and recent long hospitalisation in a North Coast hospital.

Of his gradual progress and splendid recovery, Tattersall's members were kept aware by his good pal John Coen.

In accepting his golden medallion, Mort said: "I was down and nearly out. I knew that there was only one year to go to become a Senior Member and I did not want secretary Jim Thomson to be announcing my demise.

"The tragedy of old age is not being old — but being too young to be old.

"I am 77 and I hope that there are many years of frivolity in front of me at Tattersall's."

"So say all of us" was the unanimous cry.

INDIGENOUS

Dr H. C. (Nugget) Coombs is devoting more time to the Aborigine cause. This association goes back to the 1920's when he was a school teacher in the West Australian towns of Busselton, Kattanning, and Pingelly.

"I found that they were a people who had a great appeal for me" he said. "It's very hard to explain. Of the children I taught, several had artistic talents — an appreciation of talent and poetry. You felt that they were conscious of being in a tragic situation."

It almost sounds as if Nugget, 68 year old Tattersall's colleague, former Governor of the Reserve Bank, present Chancellor of the Australian National University is thinking of turning anthropologist.

"The way I like to put it" said Nugget "is a user of anthropology. I haven't got the academic qualifications of an anthropologist, but I see myself as a bridge between the professional, academic and the administration. My goal is that the aboriginal not only be part of the Australian community, but a distinctive part".

IN REVERSE

It's a bit unusual for Sydney but the clock goes back.

When Sir Les Hooker's firm took over Wingello House on Angel Place, it was renamed Hooker House.

Now Hooker has moved into its new multi-million-dollar home on Pitt St.

During the progress of the building and towards its finality occurred a birthday for Sir Les.

The workmen threw in their chips and designated their most lowly ranked work mate to proudly present their birthday present to Sir Leslie.

And they had the rest of the day off — on the firm.

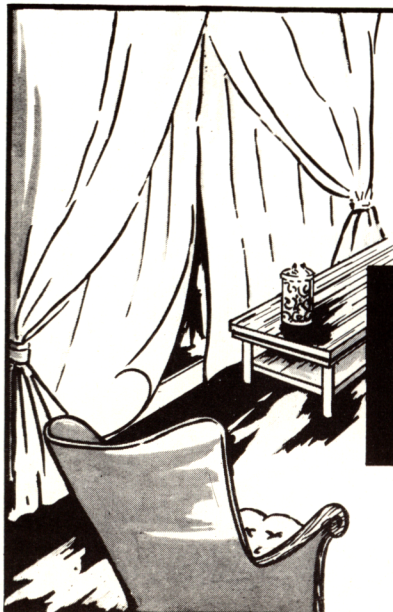

If a few technical ties are overcome, Hooker House on Angel Place will revert to the name of Wingello House, which by the way, was one of the first buildings in Sydney to use reinforced concrete.

PERSONALITY OF THE MONTH

PROFESSOR
GEORGE MOLNAR
O.B.E., F.R.A.I.A.

George Molnar was born on Anzac Day, 1910 in Hungary: was educated at the Royal Technical University in Budapest, graduating in 1932 as architect — engineer. He established a good practice and enhanced his reputation by winning many design competitions.

George came to Australia in 1939 where he practised architecture in Canberra. Among the buildings he designed there is the present Russian Embassy, intended originally to be a boarding house.

During the war, he worked at the Ministry of Munitions on all sorts of urgent and secret projects which included tanks, hospital ships, and a floating army headquarters. None of which were ever used — the war having been won in the meantime.

In 1945 he joined reluctantly the teaching staff of the school of Architecture, at the University of Sydney to help out “for a few weeks”. After twenty years of teaching he moved in 1965 to the University of N.S.W. where he is still working as an associate professor.

Most architects practising in N.S.W. have received their final architectural polish from him.

“Look at the buildings going up around us,” grumbles George. “I think I have wasted thirty years of my life.”

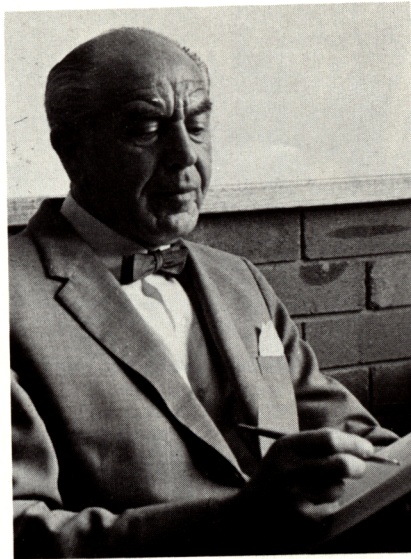

Academic life is punctuated by three yearly sabbaticals: during which George made many trips around the world to keep himself and his students up to date with the latest developments in architecture.

But George probably is best known for his cartoons. He started first with the Telegraph and since 1952 with the Sydney Morning Herald.

The London Times said “George Molnar is far and away the best Australian cartoonist — in a country where the tradition of black and white illustration is very strong.

“He has added to the Australian achievement in this field an outlook that is fresh, sophisticated and refined in consent and aesthetic in form”.

At the opening of the Molnar Exhibition at the Architectural and Planning Forum 1970 in Canberra, fellow Tattersall's member, H. C. (Nugget) Coombes said — “George is a tolerant person — he can differentiate without effort between the despised activity judgement, or opinion and the person who performs it.

“A meeting of George's friends is a mixed bag with an element of oddity or zaniness, flaunted, half-hidden or deeply secret.

“One imagines George observing our minor or major lunacies with affectionate but dispassionate amusement and building up a store of visual and verbal comment for the future. He is an artist and commentator on human affairs who ranks with the great masters”.

George has written numerous articles on architectural and building problems which appeared in technical journals.

He collaborated on and illustrated many books for the general interest among which are: “Oh, for a French Wife”, “Cooking for Bachelors”, “Cooking for Brides”, “Australian Account”, “Sydney Observed”, “Don Juan in Melanesia”, “Boomerang” etc.

Books of his own are “Statues”, “In Substantial Pageant”, “Postcards”, “Molnar at Large”, the last two containing his travel articles and drawings from his trips abroad.

He has just finished a book for children and is working on a collection of moral tales for adults.

His cartoons and articles are published and republished in many overseas papers. These include “The Christian Science Monitor, Time, Life, Noir and Blanc, The Times, Sunday Times, The Observer, Punch,” etc.

Other artistic activities of his are murals, posters, stage design. “I even had once an exhibition of pictures in the Macquarie Galleries. It was long ago. I found a box of pastels in a drawer and had to make use of it. It was a success. Every picture was bought, one by Bob Menzies. “Now there is a statesman for you” says George. “May be I should have another exhibition soon. My children leave lots of coloured pens laying around”.

As a recognition of his services to architecture and journalism, George was accorded the O.B.E. in 1971.

George is a great sportsman, who likes sport for its own sake. “I have to, I always lose”, he explains. “I am looking at present for somebody whom I can beat in squash. It's getting more and more difficult”. In his youth he played water polo. “We were always beaten”, and he still swims his warming up mile at Seven Shillings Beach in the summer and at Tattersall's in the winter.

“My tennis is not what it used to be. About twenty years ago I sometimes played singles with Adrian Quist (another world-famous Tattersall's member). He used to give me to start five games and the service. All I had to do was to win one lousy game. Never did. Those were the days”!

George also paddles a two seater kayak Ragah around the Harbour, “I hope one of my children will grow into the other seat and do the work”.

He married in 1963 Carol, daughter of Tattersall's member Reg Pluck, and has two children Katie 5 and Christopher 7.

As we reluctantly concluded our notes we could not but feel that the delight which George's gifted pen arouses and depicts is equalled only in discussion by the unexpectedness of topic each providing a happy occasion for joyful mirth or gusty laughter.

TATTERSALL'S BOWLERS IN ADELAIDE

from Fuzz Porter

On Sunday 31st March all roads led to Adelaide when 12 members of the Bowling Section led by President Fuzz Porter flew out of Sydney bound for the ninth interstate Carnival of the Turf Bowlers of Australia Association.

The host club was the Democratic Club of Adelaide. The welcome usually held on arrival at the club's headquarters had to be dispensed with owing to a strike involving hotel and club employees which had been called 48 hours previously.

However, the 140 bowlers with 60 of their wives from all States, including the A.C.T., were welcomed at the Somerton Bowling Club by President Len McKenzie.

He stressed that in spite of the sudden strike he could promise all the usual hospitality in the week ahead — a promise kept to the letter.

The carnival was officially opened at Holdfast Bay Club by the Hon. G. R. Broomhill, Minister for Tourism and Sport on Monday 1st April at 9 a.m.

Tattersall's were drawn in the first round against the home side Adelaide, who were freely tipped as likely winners.

We went down 13-15, 14-15, on the first 2 rinks, winning the third 16-15.

This turned out to be one of our best efforts, apart from our only win against Canberra, and we eventually finished at the tail end of the field of eight.

Apart from the fact that we had no reserves, our chances were not brightened when two of our contingent sickened, and we were forced to complete our teams with substitutes.

The second day was played at Brighton Club. After the 5th round Adelaide led the field having won all five games and a total of 25½ points. Brisbane followed with 20½.

A change came over the scene in the 6th round played at Somerton Club when Adelaide were white washed by Brisbane.

Going into the final round the score board read, Brisbane 26½, Adelaide 25½. In the last round, Adelaide won from Perth 5-1 and we were beaten by Brisbane 5-1.

And so with the issue being decided over the last few ends our congratulations (and the trophy) go to the Northern state.

Peter McGrath, aided and abetted by Keith Manion, Val Brown and Jim Whyte, was our most successful skipper over the series.

Wednesday 3rd April was a lay day with some of the boys (Homer Jones, Bill Hetherington, Sol Green) — all winners — journeying to Balaklava for a day of racing, with the rest of the party enjoying the day touring the Barossa Valley with a spot of wine tasting.

The final dinner was held at the Marion Hotel, the attendance being a record since the inception of the series.

The trophy was presented to the Brisbane President, while Fuzz Porter collected the wooden spoon.

Our thanks to President Len McKenzie, Charlie Gunn, and Ken Walker for their untiring and successful efforts to make our trip the enjoyable one it was.

The next Carnival will be held in Sydney with City Tattersall's the host club, and indications point to it being a "Whizzer", as George Pitt would say.

Who is the elderly legal eagle from Sydney who became engaged on the trip to Adelaide?

Back on the local scene attendances were still down in March City 24, Double Bay 24, Rose Bay 24, Rose Bay 16.

Results: 21 March Rose Bay, F. Hidden, W. Chamberlain, Father Murray. 28 March Rose Bay, N. Schroeder, W. Chamberlain.

SAPPHIRES AN INVESTMENT EXTRAORDINARY

The most effective way to combat inflation and to secure an asset of constant value appreciation, is to invest in first quality precious gems.

We offer selected parcels of genuine, hand-cut sapphires from $500 upwards.

We are happy to arrange a viewing of our collections in the privacy of your home, your office or at our bankers.

Our collections include the marvellous golden yellow, superb limes and greens, the full range of blues and a wide choice of multi-colours.

There is no better hedge against inflation — a mobile asset of indestructible beauty.

We also offer a range of single, outstanding individual precious sapphires for special settings to your own specifications.

George Bloomfield and Alan Sawyer proved too hot a combination for the rest of the Tattersall's Golf Club field at the Royal Sydney outing.

The pair won the fourball — but only just. With a bumper 46 points they got home on a countback from Bill Kelso and Brian Granger.

It was George Bloomfield's first success with Tattersall's and he had the ideal partner in local member, Alan Sawyer, a stylish five-marker. Sawyer completed the round one under the card which was great going considering the Royal Sydney greens were rough and tricky.

George Bloomfield is a Monash member and a 21-marker. He put the team on the winning road when he parred the 6th, 7th, 8th and 9th holes for four three-pointers in a row. After totting up 21 points, himself, on the outward run, he stood back and let partner Alan Sawyer do it all on the back nine.

It was tough luck for Bill Kelso, the "swinging" partner in a trio. Playing with Brian Granger he had 46 points and with Lex Carruthers, he collected 45 points.

Other impressive fourball totals were Frank Fisher and Jim Boyle who had 44 points, Ian MacGaskill and Sid Thompson, 41, and Warren Hurt and Phil Leslie, also 41.

With Alan Sawyer and Bill Kelso trophy winners in the fourball, Bob Swinbourne took out the singles trophy with a 36 point total, one more than Geoff Cummings who beat Phil Leslie on a countback.

Our 1974 season's opening day was held on the 7th March at Manly in the form of a combined golf day with The Sydney Club (formerly Millions Club). Well over hundred players — almost equally divided between the two Clubs — teed up in perfect weather. The course was in its usually tip top, well groomed condition.

The main event was the Interclub 4.B.B.B. Aggregate Stableford match. This Trophy was won by the Sydney Club with 1051 against our 1039 Stableford points — a rather narrow margin.

Other Tattersall's Club members results were —

4.B.B.B. Stableford: Winners: L. Carr, P. Byrnes 45 pts; runners up, P. Dind, B. Doyle 43 pts; on count back from F. Fisher, J. Doyle 43 pts.

Single Stableford: Winner: E. Barbour 36 pts; runner up, J. Corcoran 35 pts; on count back from P. Calabrerri 35 pts.

Hole in one — Walter Gawne on the 18th.

The Sydney Club Results:

4.B.B.B. Stableford: Winners, J. Trotter, F. Irvine, 44 pts; C. Motte, S. Grimes, 44 pts.

Single Stableford: Winners, N. Gilmour 37 pts; R. Aarons 35 pts.

At last the first Tattersall's Club hole in one has happened. Congratulations to Walter Gawne for his very fine effort. The 18th hole is one of the hardest and longest par 3 on the Manly course. It is hoped that Walter has recovered from the effect of his celebrations by now.

The Treasurer, Vic Vadas, presented the Club Trophy to Ross Barwick, the captain of the Sydney Club for one year's safe keeping.

Both speakers expressed their delight in seeing members of the two Clubs enjoying this combined golf day, and expressed their hopes for a return match next year. Our programme for 1974 has been arranged with the following dates —

May 15 Avondale. Members and Visitors.

June 11 Pennant Hills. Members and Visitors.

July 16 Pymble. Members and Visitors.

August 8 Concord. Sportmans Day, Members and Visitors.

September 10 Australian. Members and Visitors.

October 29 Pymble. Members and Visitors.

November 28 Manly. Members only, Championship Day and Annual Meeting.

Ladies night October 1, 1974.

All Golfing members of Tattersall's Club are cordially invited to join our Golf Club by contacting any of our Committee members or the General Office.

See you at Avondale.

SWIMMING NOTES

by SAM BLOCK

The March-April Point Score was a triumph for Chas Coppa who almost scored the possible with three wins and a second for a total of thirty four points. It was tough luck for Johnny Ward who finished second, three and a half points away followed by David Castle, Jim Comans and Tony Salier.

Fashion platé Vic Zappia is making a great bid for Bill Kirwan's "Native Son" Trophy and with a total of 125 leads from Garry Furlong on 121. Garry hit the front during the month but owing to drawing a tough heat was unable to hold his lead of half a point. Russell Debney is next on 118 followed by Bill Butchart and Ken Finn on 115½.

Only 20 points separate the first dozen contenders for the prize, and the manner in which some of the lads are swimming will have them well on the heels of the leaders and they may make it very tough for the top boys in the next month or so.

Chalk it up 1. Norm Rogers missed a final last month, the reason being Norm's plane was late arriving back from New Zealand.

Welcome re-appearance of Frank Falson who officiated in his role of starter. Frank really does a first rate job.

Had the extreme pleasure of introducing both Bill Kirwan and Tony McSweeney to the lads on the Third Floor and they were treated to a very generous round of applause.

New swimmers in the persons of Bryce Ross-Jones, David Rose and John Furlong made their debut during the month. Welcome fellas.

Handicappers' frowns fell on C. Coppa (2), C. Robinson (2), D. Bruce, J. Fay, J. McClean, J. Ward, D. Jackson and J. Furlong. The notice board tells the story of those whom lady luck has smiled upon.

Met up with Bruce Watson home on leave from New Guinea. Bruce will be taking his bride back with him — so here's a special good luck wish from all the boys.

Best winning times during the four weeks were J. Devitt 19.6, N. Rogers and T. Salier 21.4 seconds.

Noticed our popular John Keating and his lovely wife in the news — trying to pick the Doncaster winner. John is a good example and a credit to our Third Floor.

Nice to see Gordon Terrey taking a new interest in son Scott's performances in the pool. Scott can really scoot thru the water for two laps in 19 secs.

To hand is a card from Roger Clissold which is commanding a great deal of attention. It's really worth a peak.
